The Baily Standard Monday, November 24th, 1873. The Paris Question Again.

The Colonies has been indulging in a little of its accustomed badinage at our expense, on the subject of the comments we made the other day relative to the tariff question. We have no objection to our contemporary calling in question the expression of our views on the tariff or any other subject, provided always that it deals fairly with the question and does not labor to misrepresent the posi-tion we take or the organisms we use. We are sorry to be compelled to say it has done so in the case under consideration. It charges the STANDARD with having descrited the cause of a modified tariff, which at one time it warmly advocated, and with espousing principles the very opposite at those for which it previously contended. Now nothing could be farther from the teath. We have in no particular changed our mind, nor does anything we have given expression to justify anyone in coming to such a conclusion, is reference to this matter. The session before last the local Legislature had the undisputed right to legislace on the subject of the tariff, and did so legislate. They had then a tariff of their own, framed specially to suit the local the agricultural interests. The Dominion Government, alive to the fact that the Cause dish tariff was not as well adapted to the wants and circumstances of the Pacific Province as the tariff it then possessed very properly left it optional with the local Legislature to retain the old tariff for a specified peried of time, if they felt so disposed, or to adopt the Canadian tariff in its stead. We connselled the people, and the people's readian one in its entirety in lieu of it, for the reason that while in some respects the Canadian tariff would better serve the commercial and manufacturing interests of the country than their own, it would be all authorized to the farming interest, and that whatever would militate against the interest of agriculture would affect injuriously every other interest. We contended, and we believe we were right in doing so, that if the local Legislature took the proper steps, a modification of the Cana-dia tariff could have been obtained that could have given satisfaction to all classes of our citizens, which the present tasiff does not do. Our advice was disregarded, the Canadian tariff was hurriedly accepted, and we have reason to believe there are now sev-eral members who voted for that measure see at the same time do no injustice to other branches of trade and industry. Since then nature have materially changed. We have here set of men at the head of affairs at Ot-tre, men not at all at dikely to entertain a roposition of the nature under consideration as their predecessors would have been, for the ceased that having found the Canadian tariff in deviation in British Columbia when they took office, and that by the free choice of our own local representatives, they will represent the strangement of the business of the Corporation:

And whereas to enable the Mayer and Council to construct such Municipal Hall and Buildings, and to parchase a city therefore, it will be accessary to former the sum of money hereinafter mentioned and to levy rates For this reason we do not think it would be predest on the part of the focal floure to aske furthly action in the patter. Bode no. and be refused, would be anything but pleasant; and hence II to be desired account; hereafter to move in this matter at all, it will be better it should be done by our representatives at Ottawa, than by any interference on the part of our local House, that they made a mistake, and would reverse their action if they could. But they have allowed the golden opportunity to slip-the subject is new beyond their reach, and they are really powerless to help themselves.

When the matter was brought up in the House last session, had members taken the subject earnestly in hand, there was even then a possibility of inducing the Dominion Government to take a favorable view of our local circumstances and of so modifying the
